

The Chapin Family

live in concert

Feedback from Presenters

It was a lovefest! The entire Chapin clan captured my audience from the very start and wove us through a musical event that gave us the width and breadth of "a way of life" - not just a tribute, by an obviously very gifted family. I believe we should have started this show at dawn, because no one wanted to leave, audience or performers. This is what the music business should be all about.

Dear Chapin Family,

I just want to reiterate what a wonderful evening you offered our audience at Harry Chapin: A Celebration in Song. I say reiterate because I know they communicated their appreciation to you directly through their applause and their comments after the show. They have said it over and over again to us too, through email, by phone and when they see one of us on the street. Whether citing their connection with Harry's music or being drawn into the warmth of your three-generation family, many have told us it was more than entertainment - that they found it very moving. Some have said spiritual.

You are one talented bunch - and the crew loves working with you! There's a combo that's hard to beat. Hope to see you back in our theatre soon.
